*Odd News Picked Up
Here and There*

Legionnaire E. C. Ritz and family will leave Tulsa Saturday for Eureka Springs, Ark., to gather with his family at his mother's grave on Sunday.

Mrs. Wes Templeman, his married daughter who lives in Chicago, will arrive in Tulsa Saturday to go with the family to the memorial service.

Have you seen the beautiful patriotic window display at Louis Lago's Flower Shop, 1118 South Boston? When you need FLOWERS for any occasion, be sure to look over the beautiful displays that Legionnaire Louis has, and, incidentally save yourself some money.

All Voyageurs are invited to be at the U. S. Army Induction Center, basement of the Elks Club, next Tuesday afternoon around 4:00 o'clock and help the Chef de Gare and members of the Voiture give the Inductees a royal send-off. C. C. Johnston is doing a fine job at the Center.

Commissioner Curtis Greer served with Co. E, 1st Cavalry for four years, 1910-1913, and saw service on the Mexican Border.

Bill Stringfield writes: "Well Buddies, I've landed and in a place that suits me exactly. I am manager of the Victory Tavern, 2239 South Quannah, AND you'll like it too. Come over and have a glass of Schlitz on me. I'll be looking for you"

Indianapolis Pleased

Expressing satisfaction over the honor of entertaining the 1942 National Convention of The American Legion, streamlined though it may be, the Indianapolis News said:

"Indiana has long wished to win The American Legion National Convention. It has desired to celebrate the occasion with an appropriate and formal demonstration of its pride in being the headquarters state of the Legion. Official presentation of the headquarters building to the Legion would make a record of the people's admiration for the great organization. Something of this nature may be worked out as part of the September program."

Employment

Elimination of the age barrier and of all arbitrary employment discriminations in industry were demanded by the national executive committee of The American Legion at its closing session May 1st.

The committee adopted the report presented by Lawrence J. Fenlon of Chicago, Ill., chairman of the nation-

Mrs. Ruth Ball, Department National and Civilian Defense chairman has made a request for Legion and Auxiliary members to cooperate in getting new and used playing cards to send to men on transports and in the various A. E. F. If the cards have been used, they should be clean and complete. Does not matter if Joker is gone. Cards should be in original box, or have a rubber band.

They must not be marked, nicked or have corners broken.

Mrs. Ball writes that letters are received at National Headquarters from men on the way to the front. We quote from one: "We play with a deck until the spots fade out—then remark them. If it were not for the perpetual card games, it would be tough."

Mrs. Mark A. Renick, Unit National and Civilian Defense chairman urges every Legion and Auxiliary member to assist in this activity. If you will bring the cards to the Hut, she will be responsible for getting them to the American Legion Department Headquarters and they will get them delivered to the soldiers.
