Armistice Day Activities

* * * * *

Tuesday, November 11th

Indianapolis, Ind.—The American Legion's traditional observance of Armistice Day will blanket the Nation in 1941 as it has on this day in previous years.

Heading the list of Legionnaires who will officiate in this observance will be National Commander Lynn U. Stambaugh, who will appear as the Legion's chief speaker at the Armistice Day meeting held in Arlington National Cemetery at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at the hour of 11 o'clock a. m., EST.

Every indication now is that the President will join with the Legion in this hour of observance, at once an anniversary of the victory that ended the fighting in 1918 and a memorial to the soldier dead of that World War.

As in previous years, details for the observance are in charge of the national committee on arrangements in the Legion Department of the District of Columbia, headed by National Executive Committeeman Joseph J. Mallory.

The District's National Guard of Honor again will be on the program to handle in its own efficient manner many of the details of the proceedings.

Mrs. Mark W. Murrill, new president of the American Legion Auxiliary, and National Chaplain Halloran will be on the program.

Networks to Broadcast
Armistice Ceremonies

Washington, D. C.—With the President of the United States himself participating, The American Legion will observe the 23rd anniversary of the Armistice, November 11, with impressive ceremonies at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery. The Auxiliary will join in the program.

All of the national radio networks will broadcast the addresses to be made by the President, by National Commander Lynn U. Stambaugh of The American Legion, and by Mrs. Mark W. Murrill, national president of the Auxiliary. The program will go on the air at 10:55 a. m. est., shortly before President Roosevelt will lay a wreath on the sarcophagus. He will then speak to the nation. Commander Stambaugh and Mrs. Murrill will follow. The proceedings will broadcast until 11:30 a. m. est., but the program at the Tomb will continue until noon.

Commander Stambaugh and Mrs. Murrill will also place wreaths on the Tomb. Wreaths will be laid also by the commanders and representatives of the departments of The American Legion. All departments have been asked to send representatives to these annual exercises.

The American Legion Guard of Honor of the Department of the District of Columbia, will be on the job.

World War Records
In Fireproofs Building

Washington, D.C.—All personnel records of the World War have finally been housed in a fireproof building, as demanded for years by The American Legion. After remaining for years in a temporary frame structure at 6th and B streets, S.W., in Washington, the individual records have been moved to the new Navy department building in Arlington County, Virginia, across the river from the capital city. They will remain until the new Army office building, also in Arlington County, is ready for them.

Annual Roll Call of American Red Cross

Citing the "unity of purpose that has long existed between the American Red Cross and The American Legion" National Commander Lynn U. ## - Auxiliary News -

BY MADALINE A. GALLOWAY

Tuesday, November 4th is the date of our regular business meeting as announced by Mrs. Paul C. Wheeler, Unit President.

Immediately following the meeting there will be a pie supper. Members are requested to each take a pie, which will be auctioned off by that one and only auctioneer, Chick Woodard. According to Mrs. Elmer Orr, Social chairman, after one of the "investors in pie" has made his purchase, he becomes the "partner" of the lady who made the pie, and together they eat the pie—plus a cup of delicious coffee.

Plans have been perfected for the dance for Spartan cadets to be held at the Hut Saturday, November 1st, at 9 p. m. The Legion and Auxiliary are sponsoring the dance. Mrs. Orr in charge of arrangements, anticipates a large attendance of lovely girls, who have been invited to dance with the cadets, so it looks from here like it was going to be an evening of real merry making.

* * * * *

Mrs. Walter A. Jacobs, Community Service Chairman is happy to report that Unit members did "their bit" in the Community Fund drive and went "over the top" on our quota, with 131 per cent. Assisting Mrs. Jacobs, who served as captain, were Mrs. Paul C. Wheeler, Mrs. E. B. Benton, Mrs. George Peacher, Mrs. Bessie Lukinbill and Mrs. Elizabeth Williams.

* * * * *

Word has reached us that Mrs. Earl Perkins, Unit member, has received a beautiful Red Cross pin, because of 100 hours she spent in knitting. Aside from being a housewife, Mrs. Perkins operates a beauty parlor, has 20 canary birds—some white and some yellow, grows a real flower garden each year, manages to keep Earl happy, and still has found time to knit five sweaters for the Red Cross, which is another example of "What Women Can Do In the Home to Help National Defense."

Junior Auxiliary

The Junior Auxiliary will hold a business meeting at 7:30 p. m., Monday at the Hut. Girls who are members of the drill team are requested to be present and practice, in order that they may make a good showing in the Armistice Day parade.

Past Presidents Elect

By Mrs. Mark A. Renick

On Monday, October 20th, Mrs. J. F. Slauf was hostess, with Mrs. Mark A. Renick as co-hostess, at a covered dish luncheon for members of the Past Presidents Parley, in the home of Mrs. Slauf, 2524 East 17th Place. At that time the fall election of officers was held. Following is the list: Mrs. W. C. McCarthy, President; Mrs. W. K. Gray, Vice President; Mrs. P. O. Baker, Secretary-Treasurer; Mrs. E. B. Benton, Parliamentarian.

President McCarthy appointed the following chairmen: Mrs. Gray, Telephone Chairman. Others working on this committee will be Mrs. Slauf, Mrs. Glenn A. Blanchard and Mrs. James Chalmers of Sand Springs. Mrs. W. D. Rush was appointed to serve as Publicity Chairman.

After the luncheon, election of officers, etc., the group enjoyed an afternoon of bridge.

Only If—

"The experience of having weathered the storms of the past makes us more certain we will survive the turbulence of the present.

"But this survival will be ours, only if—

"Our country is strong, united.

"If the defenses of America are powerful enough to ward off any foe.

"If aggressive national defense, not appeasement and abasement, is the American policy.

"If our men and women forget the petty problems of their individual lives and replace them with a determination to work together for the homeland.

"If we face the realities of a material concept of world affairs.

"If each of us contributes to keep the heart of America right by destroying the enemies within our boundaries.

"If we face the fact that the will to peace is not the road to peace."
